Keiretsu Forum Announces Silicon Valley Angel Capital Expo

LAFAYETTE, CA--(Marketwire - October 7, 2008) - Keiretsu Forum, the world's largest angel investment community, will hold its Silicon Valley Angel Capital Expo on Friday, November 21 from 7:30am to 4:00pm at the Microsoft Campus in Mountain View, California.

Angel Capital Expo is the premier gathering of angel investors and entrepreneurs seeking funding capital to grow their businesses. At the Silicon Valley Angel Capital Expo on November 21st, more than 300 of the Bay Area's most active and respected angel investors will attend.

"The incredible quality and number of both presenting entrepreneurs and attending investors will make this an exceptional event for the Bay Area angel investing community," said Randy Williams, founder and CEO of Keiretsu Forum.

Angel Capital Expo will feature fifteen presentations from early stage companies in technology, life sciences, consumer products, real estate, financial services, social ventures and other segments with high growth potential. All presenters will be pre-screened by a select committee of Keiretsu Forum members. Each entrepreneur will make a 15-minute presentation and will be available for additional discussion and due diligence at their exhibitor booth throughout the day. Following the presentations, the attendees will vote and award the top three presenting companies the "Most Valued Company" award.

"The event was exceptionally efficient and very well attended. Keiretsu Forum's Angel Capital Expo is by far the best vehicle to fuel a start-up entrepreneur's fire by bringing together such a dynamic group of qualified investors," said Sid Krommenhoek, Co-founder of Zinch, Inc., winner of the "Most Valued Company" award at the April 2008 San Francisco Angel Capital Expo.
